SAMMY CHARLES WHITE (Catcher)

Born Wenatchee, Washington, July 7, 1928

Bats and Throws Right; 6' 3", 195 lbs.

White was a baseball and basketball star at the University of Washington. He signed with Seattle in 1949 and hit a home run his first time at bat. His contract was purchased by the Red Sox during the season of 1949. With Roanoke in 1950 he was chosen on the Piedmont League All-Star team. After a fine season in 1952, Sammy was named by the Baseball Writers' as co-winner of the Boston Rookie of the Year award. Last June against Detroit White scored three runs in one inning to equal the major league record established in 1883. He led the American League catchers in put-outs and assists, made an unassisted double play to tie the record by catchers, and was voted on the All-Star team. In the off season Sammy represented an insurance company and coached basketball at Beverly High School. He is married, has a young son and lives in West Newton, Mass.
